Proportional Representation —No. 4

Opponents of the adoption of the Proportional Representation system in connection with parliamentary, legislative and municipal elections, to which attention has been devoted in this series of articles, urge:

1. It is too complicated for the voters to understand.

The following was the percentage of spoiled ballots in some elections recently held under the P.R. system: Sligo Municipal election: Votes cast, 2,251; spoiled ballots, 43. Of this latter number, 24 only were attributable to the new system, whilst 19 were declared invalid for other reasons. The percentage of spoiled papers due to the P.R. system was, therefore, just over 1 per cent.

Edinburgh election: Votes cast, 124,107; invalid from all causes, 2,750; percentage of invalid votes, 2.2.

2. The method of counting the votes is too elaborate and the process takes too long.

The following comments from places where P.R. has been tried may be taken as indicative of feeling on the question:

- (a) Glasgow: The returning officer in one day counted no fewer than 12,000 votes, spread over seven electoral divisions of the city.
- (b) Calgary: It took 2½ times as long to count ballots as under the old system.
- (c) Kalamazoo: It took 6½ hours to count 4,461 ballots.
- (d) Of the election in Sligo, "The Champion" of that city says: "The system has justified its adoption. We saw it work; we saw its simplicity. We saw its merriment honesty to the voter all through. . . . It is as easy as the old way; it is a big improvement, and it is absolutely fair."

It is very plain, very simple. However, even if two or three days were consumed in counting the ballots, there are still over 36 days left in the year for the Government to function, and the new Parliament, Legislature or Council never takes action immediately. If P.R. secures more representative government, would not the time be well spent?

Again, is the ordinary voter concerned with the actual work of counting the ballots? Is not this done by appointed expert officials now? Could not the P.R. method be carried on by such officials also, and possibly by even more expert men than are now selected as returning officers?

3. It divides the electorate into groups and fosters group feeling.

Is not group feeling more apt to be inflamed by lack of adequate representation? In cities where the ward system prevails, this same group or sectional feeling is cultivated, whereas under P.R. the ward system can be done away with while at the same time making adequate provision that minorities can secure their proportionate representation in the Council.

4. P.R., by giving complete representation to the people, will weaken government and make it unstable.

This criticism is not borne out by experience where P.R. has been tried. The strength and stability of a democratic executive depend upon two factors—its personnel and its ability to interpret the will of the people. P.R. tends to strengthen the personnel. M. Georges Loran, the well-known Belgian M.P., states that under P.R. not only were all parties represented in Parliament, but "they were represented by their ablest men and leaders, whilst under the former majority system prominent men passed half their lives outside the House. Parliamentary life has consequently gained in authority." "Perhaps the principal benefit of P.R.," he adds, "has been that political life, which has been intensified everywhere, has also been purified, the weapons employed being generally more courteous and more dignified."

Further, a democratic government will be stable if it interprets the will of the people correctly, and P.R., by making our public bodies completely representative of the people, places in the hands of governments a more effective instrument for ascertaining what that will is. This explains why P.R. has rendered government in Belgium stable.

There are many other objections advanced against Proportional Representation, but these are the chief ones, and certainly they do not hold against the manifest fairness of the P.R. method to all people in the election of their representatives.

As pointed out in the first of these articles, the principle of Proportional Representation has now been endorsed in Canada by the National Liberal Convention, the Great War Veterans Association, the Canadian Council of Agriculture, the Labor party, Social Service Councils, and numerous other reform organizations. It was endorsed by the recent Industrial Conference at Ottawa, and the Government has announced its intention of having an exhaustive inquiry made with a view to its adoption in Federal Parliamentary elections.

People everywhere should, therefore, embrace every opportunity that presents itself to study the question and become as fully informed as possible in regard to it, as it is practically a certainty that it will be adopted in Canada in the not distant future. It is to encourage such closer study that this series of articles has been written.

Had a Very Bad Attack OF Bowel Complaint IT WAS CURED BY DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY

Any one suffering from bowel complaints such as diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps and pains in the stomach, summer complaint, etc., will find that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry will give quicker and more permanent relief than any other remedy on the market today.

This old tried and proven medicine has been on the market for the past 74 years. You don't experiment when you buy it. Simply the test of time proves this.

Mrs. Daniel Hartwick, Mountain Grove, Ont., writes: "I used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and have found that it is a good remedy. When my little girl was 2½ years old she had a very bad attack of bowel complaint. Nothing prescribed by the doctor seemed to do her any good. She got worse, until we thought we would lose her. I got a bottle of Dr. Fowler's, and she soon found relief. Everyone who has children should not be without it in their home."

Price 35 cents a bottle; put up only by The W. McManis Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

A special chapel will shortly be installed in St. Paul's Cathedral, London, in memory of Lord Kitchener. It will cost $50,000.

Worms, however generated, are found in the digestive tract, where they set up disturbances detrimental to the health of the child. There can be no comfort for the little ones until the harmful intruders have been expelled. No better medicine for this purpose can be had than Miller's Worm Powders. They will immediately destroy the worms, correct the conditions that were favorable to their existence.

Missed a Mixup

An amusing incident in which the chauffeur of M. Clemenceau and M. Millerand, the Governor-General of Alsace-Lorraine, played the principal parts, occurred recently in Paris. The chauffeurs were driving their distinguished employers through one of the main thoroughfares of Paris the other day, when in some way they nearly collided. Both drivers were convinced the other was to blame, and with much gesticulation began to abuse each other volubly. An unpleasant scene was developing when the chauffeurs recognized that the men they were driving were saluting each other from the carriage windows with every mark of amity and profound respect. The drivers' quarrel terminated abruptly and with a superb air of dignified indifference they continued their journey.

Natural Salt Beds in Alberta

Provincial Government Developing Immense Deposits Near Fort McMurray

Drilling for salt at Fort McMurray, Alberta, has just been commenced, according to an official of the Department of Mines.

An outfit, with seven men, has just been sent in by the provincial government. The deposit underlies the town of Fort McMurray, so it is feasible from the transportation standpoint.

According to previous investigations, there is a bed 180 feet deep, lying 480 feet under the surface. Professor Allan, of Alberta, was sent in by the provincial government a couple of months ago, and he reported very favorably.

It is not decided whether the government will mine salt, supposing everything is as expected, or whether it will turn the work over to a company.

PAINFUL NEURALGIA

Is Caused By Thin, Watery Blood and Cured By Enriching the Blood

Most people think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or in the face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve in the body. Different names are given to it when it affects different nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease are the same. The cause being the same, the cure will be effective, "just the same." The pain in sciatica is caused by starved nerves. The blood which carries nourishment to the nerves has become thin and impure and no longer does so, and the pain you feel is the cry of the nerves for their natural food. You may ease the pain of neuralgia with hot applications, but you can only cure the trouble by enriching and purifying the blood. For this purpose we know of no medicine that can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make new, rich blood and thus act as the most efficient of nerve tonics. If you are suffering from this most dreaded of troubles, or any form of nerve trouble, give these pills a fair trial, and see how speedily you will be restored to good health.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Comfort for the Dyspeptic. — There is no ailment so harassing and exhausting as dyspepsia, which arises from defective action of the stomach and liver, and the victim of it is to be pitied. THE 1919 VICTORY LOAN
The Bridge From War to Peace

No truer or more apt expression was ever one of those who stayed at home. The 1919 Victory Loan is truly a bridge which must be crossed before we can take leave of the past and devote ourselves to the work of reconstruction. For five years all the strength of the world has been given to the supreme purpose of destruction. Our manhood, the wealth of our fields and factories; our mines, and ships have been organized to defeat a ruthless military power. Hundreds of thousands of producers representing our fittest men left their place in industry for active service overseas.

A great proportion of these men have now returned in various stages of fitness to re-enter civil life, and carry on their normal employments. The expense of bringing these men back, and the further expense of re-establishing them must be met by Canada. It is for this purpose, among others, that the 1919 Victory Loan is being placed before the people of Canada.

Canada owes it to the men who served its needs that they shall start again with no unnecessary handicap; this is a debt of honor. The nation that forgets these things will live under a regret that those who served it in its greatest crisis are at a disadvantage compared with those who stayed at home as it does them really well, the worth of Canada will be judged by nations. We cannot tolerate the sight so common after other wars, of soldiers who have been reduced to beggary. The good name of Canada has rested for years on the shoulders of the men who fought for her in Flanders. Now her good name rests on every citizen of Canada, whether he be a returned man or one of those who stayed at home.

In fully subscribing for the Victory Loan within the boundaries of Canada, we save ourselves the necessity of going to another country for the money which we can raise ourselves, if we will. Canada's progress can be financed by Canada. Canada's development can be done by Canadians. Canada's men must be re-established by Canada without outside help, and to do this Canada's 1919 Victory Loan must be subscribed for in full, within the boundaries of Canada by Canadians.

The spirit which placed Southern Alberta among the largest subscribers to previous loans of this nature still animates the people of Southern Alberta, and Southern Alberta's share of this loan will be subscribed in the same whole-hearted manner in which previous loans have been subscribed.

It is the duty of every patriotic Canadian to own a Victory Loan bond within the extreme limit of his power to purchase. We must remember, firstly, that the money will be used to discharge our debt of honor to the men who fought for Canada; secondly, that we are asked to lend money to our own government on terms that are both safe and profitable to ourselves with the best security in the world, namely: Canada and Canada's resources; thirdly, that our money will be spent with a view to making Canada more prosperous so that the burden of taxation may be lightened. The bridge from war to peace can only be made absolutely safe if each of us does his best to strengthen and support it.

See that you do your share.

Also that other Institutes were building memorial Halls or doing something in memory of the Boys who made that great sacrifice over there, and asked that we might plant some trees at the local schools as this is the least way in which we could show our respect. After the address Mrs. J. R. Belick favored us with a solo which was enjoyed by all. Tea was then served and a very pleasant afternoon closed with God Save The King. ## THE COW PUNCHER

— BY —
ROBERT J. C. STEAD

Copyrighted, Canada, 1918, By
The Mussion Book Co. Ltd.,
Toronto. Printed By Special Arrangement.

At last he found it, but it read like this:

Fire this morning gutted the Great West Clothing Store with a loss of $8,000, of which $4,000 is covered by insurance in the Occidental. Frank Beecher, proprietor of the store, was overcome by smoke, and is in the city hospital.

Smoke was first seen issuing from the back of the store by Fred Grant, a delivery man for the Imperial Laundry, who turned in an alarm at 10:08. Owing to the fire team colliding with a dray owned by Sheppard & Co., some minutes of delay occurred. During this period the building, which was of frame, burned fiercely. It was almost completely destroyed, although some of the stock may be salvageable.

Beecher rushed into the back room for certain papers, where he was found by Fireman Carey in an unconscious condition. He is recovering, and is already planning to rebuild.

Dave read the account with a sinking heart. By the time he reached the end it seemed his heart could sink no further. He found that the editor had not left the office, so he approached him with as much spirit as he could command.

"I guess you won't need me any more," he said. "I'm sorry I made a mess of that fire story."

There was a kind twinkle in the chief's eye as he answered, "Nonsense. Of course we need you. You have merely made the mistake every one else makes, in supposing you could write for a newspaper without training. We will give you the training — and pay you while you learn. The only man we can't use is the man who won't learn. Now let me give you a few pointers, and the editor got up from his desk and held the paper with the fire story before him. "In the first place, don't start a story with 'like', at least, not more than once or twice a week. In the second place, get the meat into the first paragraph. Seventy-five per cent. of the readers never go further than the first paragraph; give them the raw facts there; if they want the trimmings they will go down for them. That is where a magazine story is exactly opposite to a newspaper story; a newspaper story shows its hand in the first paragraph, a magazine story in the last.

"Then, get the facts. Nobody cares whether the fire bell rang or not, but they do care about the man who was suffocated; who he was, what he was doing there, what became of him.

MURINE Rests, Refreshes, Soothes, Heals—Keep your Eyes Bright and Healthy. If they Tingle, Smart, Itch, or Burn, if Red, Sore, Irritated, Inflamed, or Granulated, use Murine often. Safe for Infant or Adult. At all Drugstores in Canada. Write for Free Eye Book. Murine Company, Chicago, U.S.A.

Revel in names. Get the names of everybody, and get them right. The closest tight-wad in the town will buy a paper if it has his name in it. Every story, no matter how short, is good for a number of names. In your copy as you turned it in," the editor picked it up from his desk; he had evidently saved it for such an occasion as this—"The only name you had was that of the clothing store. I had one of the other boys got to work on the telephone, and you see he got the name of the proprietor; of the insurance company, with the amount of the insurance; of the man who turned in the alarm; of the owner of the dray team that obstructed the engine, and of the firemen who carried Beecher to safety. Every one of these people, with their families, their cousins, and their aunts, become especially interested in the story the moment their names are introduced. "Next, remember that it is not the business of a reporter to pass editorial comment. It may have been too bad that the fire engine was delayed, but that is a matter for the editor to decide. "The business of the reporter is to find out why it was delayed, and state the facts, without regrets or opinions. You must learn to hold the mirror up to nature without making faces in it. You know what I mean—keep your own reflection out of the picture. If you think the incident calls for an expression of opinion by the paper, write an editorial and submit it to me. But remember that the editorial and news columns of a paper should be as distinct as the two sides of a fence."

"Thank you very much," said Dave slowly, when it was plain the editor had finished. "I think I begin to see. But there's one thing I don't understand. Why did you not mention the origin of the fire?"

A flicker of amusement—or was it confession?—ran across the chief's face as he answered, "Because we don't know what started it — and Beecher is one of our best advertisers. To say the origin of the fire is unknown always leaves a smack of suspicion. It is like the almost imperceptible shrug of the shoulder at the mention of a woman's name. You can't get away from it. And it is the advertiser who keeps the paper alive."

"I know it's not idealism, but idealism doesn't pay wages and paper bills, and as long as readers demand papers for less than it costs to print them they will have to take second place to the advertiser."

"Then all reports are to be colored to suit the advertiser?" demanded Dave.

"No. Where a principle is involved — and we have principles, even in these degenerate days — we stand by the principle, even if we lose the patronage. Our notions of what is for the public good have cost us a lot of money at times. You see, the exploiter is always ready to pay his servants, which is more than can be said of the public. But where no real principle is involved we try to be friendly to our friends."

With these fresh viewpoints on his profession Dave entered upon his work the following day chastened but determined. Almost immediately he found the need of acquaintanceships. The isolation of his boyhood had bred in him qualities of aloofness which had now to be overcome. He was not naturally a good "mixer"; he preferred his own company, but his own company would not bring him much news. So he set about deliberately to cultivate acquaintanceship with the members of the police force and the fire brigade, and the clerks in the hotels. And he had in his character a quality of sincerity which gave him almost instant admission into their friendships. He had not suspected the charm of his own personality, and its discovery, feeding upon his new-born enthusiasm for friendships, still further enriched the charm.

As his acquaintance with the work of the police force increased Dave found his attitude toward moral principles in need of frequent readjustment. By no means a Puritan, he had, nevertheless, two sterling qualities which so far had saved him from any very serious misstep. He practiced absolute honesty in all his relationships. His father, drunken although he was in his later years, had never quite lost his sense of commercial obligations, and Dave had inherited the quality in full degree. And Reenie Hardy had come into his life just when he needed it.

Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis

If there is an ailment in the throat or chest, it is surely essential that the remedy be conveyed direct to the affected part. It's because the healing vapor of Catarrhazone is breathed in, that it soothes irritated throat and bronchial tubes that its balsamic fumes kill the germs and destroy the cause of the trouble. These are the reasons why Catarrhazone never yet failed to cure a bronchitic case of Croup, Asthma, Bronchitis or Throat Trouble.

The wonderfully-soothing vapor of Catarrhazone instantly relieves the furthest recesses of the lungs, produces a healing curative effect that is impossible with a tablet or liquid, and does merely to the stomach, and fails entirely to help the throat or lungs.

Catarrhazone Just Breathe It

To permanently cure your winter ailments, your coughs, sneezing and Catarrh, by all means use a tried and proven remedy like Catarrhazone. But you know the substitute. Large outfit lasts two months, costs $10.00, small size 50c, trial size 25c, at dealers everywhere.

Reenie Hardy to come into his life.

He often thought of Reenie Hardy, and of her compact with him, and wondered what the end would be. And meanwhile he found the need of frequent readjustments. He became aware of the fact that in every community there are two communities; one on the surface, respectable, discreet, conventional; and one beneath the surface, to which these terms would not apply. He found that the province of the police was not to enforce morality, but to prevent immorality becoming obnoxious. Anything, almost, might go on so long as its effects were confined to the voluntary participants. Underneath the sham of good behavior was a world, known to the police and the newspaper men and a few others, which refused to accept standard conventions and lived according to its own impulse. And this world included so-called best citizens, of both sexes. And they were good citizens. It seemed the community had two natures; a sort of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde on a community basis. Splendid qualities; large heartedness, generosity, were mingled and streaked through degrees of selfishness and lust running down into positive crime. . . . And the wonder was not what the papers printed, but what they left untold. . . . And he was glad he had met Reenie Hardy. She was an anchor about his soul. . . . And Edith Duncan.

One morning, as he sat with Carson of The Times at the reporters' table in the police court, listening absently to the clerk calling a list of names, his companion, with a glance, intimated that there was something beneath the surface. "Pure fiction," he whispered, as the list was completed. "It would do you good to know who they are. Shining lights, germs of them. And when they are lit up they can't be kept under a bush. The police just had to do something. They won't be here — not one of them. Their lawyer will plead guilty, and pay the fines, and every one will be sorry—they were caught. Even his ribs on the bench isn't twice as happy. It was by good luck he wasn't with the bunch himself."

It turned out as Carson predicted. One of the leading lawyers of the city addressed the court, expressing the regret of his clients that their behavior had necessitated interference by the police. He was full of suave assurances that no disrespect of the law, nor annoyance to any member of the community was intended, and he pleaded feelingly for as great leniency as the court might consider consistent with the offence. The minimum fine was imposed, and the lawyer withdrew, bearing with him the double happiness of having earned a good fee and having saved a number of his personal friends from a public exposure which would have been, at least, embarrassing. As the lawyer passed the reporters' table Dave felt something pressed into his hand, and heard the whispered words, "Split it!"

In his hand was a ten dollar bill. "What's the joke?" said Dave to Carson, when the session was over.

"The idea is that I get five," said Carson, "and both of us forget it. Cheap skate, he might have made it twenty. Of course, the names were bogus, but they couldn't risk mention, even with that precaution. Easy picking, isn't it?"

"It doesn't look quite right," Dave faltered. "I'm here to get the news."

"Oh, can that. You know we don't publish all the news. Why man, we'd wreck society, or the ship of state, or whatever it is we are all floating on, if we did that. We'd have every lawyer in this burg busy in a week, and they're making too much money already. What the world doesn't know the world doesn't grieve over. And the joke of it is, everybody thinks he's putting it over somebody else, and while he's busy thinking that somebody else is putting it over him. So they're about even in the fun. Besides, if you talk about principles, doesn't the Bible say to do unto others as you would that they should do unto you? How would you feel in their position?"

Canadian Grown Seeds

In Many Cases Are Superior to the Imported Varieties.

Since 1914, important, almost colossal, developments have taken place in roots. Previous to the war, Canada imported 95 per cent. of her seed. But war conditions emphasized the fact that she should depend on her own resources. At the present moment Canadian-grown seeds compare most favorably and in many cases are superior to the imported varieties.

Mangel seed in British Columbia has exceeded a ton an acre. Carrot seed in the same province is not only extremely heavy, but is of A1 quality. It has been found that Nova Scotia is essentially a turning growing home. The result of what were originally only experiments has proved conclusively that Canada will not only be able to supply her own needs, but will be able to export in large quantities. With this end in view, the experimental stations in both Eastern Canada and British Columbia are being utilized for the purpose of providing seed growing concerns with stock seed, in other words the guaranteed pure and first quality article.

Ever see the motto "Live and Let Live" on the walls of a butcher shop?

"I HAVE PROVED"

Zam-Buk invaluable for eczema, both in the case of my baby and myself," says Mrs. L. Bonin of West Ararat, N.S. She adds: "Baby's skin was badly broken out, but repeated applications of Zam-Buk entirely cured it."

"In my own case, I had eczema on my hands, which made it very inconvenient for me to do my housework. Particularly was this so, as it aggravated the trouble so to put my hands in water. By using Zam-Buk, however, I soon got relief, and it was not very long before every trace of the trouble had disappeared. I really think no home should be without Zam-Buk."

Zam-Buk is equally good for all skin injuries. All dealers 50c box.

Marking British Aircraft

Under recent instructions issued by the British Air Ministry, the marks on private or tourist aircraft as opposed to commercial or state machines are to be distinguished by having the marks underlined with a black line. This brings the marking of British machines into line with the regulations of the International Air Convention.

"FIDDLE-FIT"

Keep Liver and Bowels Clean and Active with "Cascarets"

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, sour, gassy stomach—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system, is reabsorbed by having the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food, and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will have you feeling clear, rosy and as fit as a fiddle by morning. They work while you sleep.

About the only good things that can be said in some men's favor is that they are not society favorites.

Closing In On The Bolshevik Forces

London.—In official quarters here it is declared that General Yudenitch, commander of the northwestern Russian force advancing on Petrograd, is working in close understanding with Admiral Kolchak, head of the all-Russian government, and General Denikin in a combined effort against the Bolshevik armies in Siberia, southern Russia and on the northwestern front.

General Yudenitch's troops are fully equipped now by the allies, with whom the general is in constant touch. He, as well as General Denikin and Admiral Kolchak, it is declared, has consistently rejected all overtures from Germany and maintained their connection with the allies.

In connection with the report from Germany that Great Britain had invited Germany to co-operate in the coercion of Soviet Russia, the correspondent of the Associated Press learns that a communication of this nature was made to Germany by the peace conference.

Word of the request to Germany to participate in a blockade of Soviet Russia came first from Berlin, and later was followed by reports from neutral states intimating that they, too, had been requested to join in a blockade. No definite announcement of such contemplated measures had, however, been made from Paris or London, causing adverse newspaper comment. It was stated in Paris that the United States did not join with the entente powers in asking Germany to co-operate in such a blockade.

Food in Storage in Dominion
Ottawa.—The advance survey of stocks of food commodities in storage throughout the country published monthly by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics shows a substantial increase.

There are close to 19,000,000 more pounds of foodstuffs on hand than a month ago, the chief increase being in cheese, sweet pickled pork and pork in process of cure. Frozen beef also shows a considerable advance.

Want Stamped Cheques
Winnipeg.—The Federal Government is being asked to arrange for an issue of cheques for the use of all chartered banks which will bear the two-cent stamp.

Canadians Anxious To Come Home

Great Britain Is No Place for the Holiday-Maker at Present
Ottawa.—The Department of Immigration and Colonization has received by cable a warning from England that there are thousands of Canadians on the other side anxious to come home, but unable to secure return passage for at least six months. It is said that this situation is being accentuated by the arrival of visitors from Canada. When the cable was sent from London rationing had been resorted to. The weekly allowance was: Butter, 1 ounce; sugar, six ounces; coal, 100 pounds; meats, 40 cents' worth.

Canadians who contemplate a visit to the mother country during the next few months should take into consideration the impossibility of returning within a few weeks after arrival there.

Land For Soldiers

2,700 Quarter-Sections In All for Sale By Public Auction This Fall

Ottawa.—Through the intervention of the Soldier Settlement Board, school lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, aggregating 432,000 acres, have been withheld from sale by auction, in order to be made available for settlement by returned soldiers. Arrangements have been completed to advertise these lands, 2,700 quarter-sections in all, for sale by public auction this fall. The lands are situated in the Winnipeg, Brandon, Ashern and St. Rose de Lac districts in Manitoba, and the Canora, Wadena, Prince Albert and Wakarusa districts in Saskatchewan.

Want Prohibition in France

Paris.—The fight against alcohol will be a leading plank of the national platform in the forthcoming elections. Ministers are demanding the absolute suppression of alcohol, and the walls of Paris and the larger cities are already plastered with these demands, and pamphlets and posters have been mailed by the hundred thousand to hotels and individuals in the provinces.

"If France does not suppress alcohol, alcohol will suppress France," the posters proclaim in huge characters, and add, "Three million individuals live upon the traffic of alcohol; thirty-five million suffer and die from it."

R.N.W.M.P. Headquarters to Go East

Ottawa.—On a bill amalgamating the Dominion and the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, Sir James Loughheed in the senate stated that the headquarters of the organization would likely be in Ottawa, but a large portion of the force would be continued west of the lakes. Senator Casgrain asked if they could be put on trains and brought east to serve in case of riot.

Sir James: They will be a mobile body.

The bill was given a second reading.

Prohibition Enforcement Bill Signed

Washington.—The prohibition enforcement bill was signed by Vice-President Marshall and Speaker Gillette for immediate transmission to President Wilson. The President will have ten days from the time it reaches the White House to sign it. Announcement has been made at the White House that the bill would be referred to Attorney-General Palmer for an opinion as to its constitutionality before any executive action was taken.

Double Tragedy Feared

Edmonton.—Grave concern is felt in Peace River over the report brought in from Bear Lake by a half-breed that he had found evidence of a tragedy out on the ice of Bear Lake. It is feared that two well-known young men of Peace River, Scotty Leitch and Duncan Stewart, are drowned.

Clemenceau Ministry Is Sustained

By Large Majority on Chronological Order of Elections

Paris.—The Clemenceau ministry was sustained in the Chamber of Deputies by a vote of 324 to 132. The premier thus victoriously emerged from the bitterest and least organized assault which the ministry has ever faced, the chamber adopting the cabinet's policy on the chronological order of the elections, placing the legislative elections first, on November 16, and the constitutional and municipal elections in that order.

For the first time, Aristide Briand, the former premier, came out openly in leading the opposition forces, but M. Clemenceau's majority was the largest he had ever received when the question of confidence was presented.

Reds a Menace to U.S.

Senator Poindexter Says Measures Necessary Against Revolution
Washington.—"The United States government is in grave danger from the movement of international revolutionists, and it may fall unless vigorous measures of defence are taken now," Senator Poindexter, Washington, declared in the senate.

There are revolutionary interests in this country," Poindexter said, "and their object is the overthrow of the government and the seizure of private property. There is no doubt of the existence of that condition."

Check for the Consumer

Ottawa.—New regulations governing the lobster packing industry of the Maritime Provinces are provided for in an amendment to the Meat and Canned Foods Act, of which notice has been given by the government. Provision is also made for the correct labelling of all cans of fish or shell fish imported into Canada, and other particulars, including weight of contents, place of origin, and the names of the packers, and also of the importer.

French Want Canadian Houses

London.—The secretary of the Export Association of Canada states that the association is consulting with the ministry of health for a supply of ready-made houses on the Canadian plan, in connection with the new government housing scheme, and a definite decision may be expected within a few weeks. There is a growing demand for these houses from France.

C.M.A. Extending Organization

Toronto.—In pursuance of an intensive policy of organization, and with the object of permitting greater co-operation among members more or less closely located the Canadian Manufacturers' Association has divided the Dominion into five divisions, each of which will have a separate chairman, vice-chairman and executive.

Print Paper from Prince Rupert

Prince Rupert, B.C.—Thirteen carloads of paper made at Ocean Falls and consigned to the New York Times, are on their way east from Prince Rupert. This paper was made from pulp furnished by spruce logs felled on the Queen Charlotte Islands during the airplane industry which concluded with the signing of the armistice.

Washington.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was reported by labor leaders to be suffering from a nervous breakdown. He is confined to his bed with a temperature of 101 degrees.

Demand Surrender Of German Vessels

Wants a Pool to Indemnify Allies

French Senate Adopts Resolution Asking for Further Disarmament

Paris.—The senate adopted the resolution, which has already been passed by the Chamber of Deputies, asking the government to suggest to the allies further measures for the disarmament of Germany, and another resolution suggesting that France be given a prior claim in the distribution of reparation payments made by the Germans.

The chamber adopted a resolution which, after expressing confidence in the spirit of equity and justice of the allied and associated powers, asks the French government to negotiate with them for the establishment of a common pool between the allies to indemnify the participants in the great war.

Huns Are in a Quandary

Germans Are Not Keen on Blockade of Russia, Soviets

Berlin.—Suggestions from the entente that Germany join in the blockade of Soviet Russia, have not yet been officially considered by the German cabinet, but have inspired a statement indicating the government's answer will neither be an unconditional refusal nor an indication of assent. It is said that the Germans will suggest the installation of an international commission to deliberate on the proposition which unquestionably found Germany unprepared and places her in a quandary.

Hauling Wheat Across the Line

Winnipeg.—It is reported here in grain circles that farmers in Manitoba and Saskatchewan to a distance of 40 to 50 miles north of the international boundary line are this fall hauling large quantities of wheat across to the United States market points and receiving 60 cents or 70 cents more a bushel than it would be possible if they sold their wheat in Canada.

This international trade has assumed such proportions that a number of elevators located at southern points in the two provinces are being closed up as the amount of business they are receiving does not warrant the expense of keeping them open.

Pensions Laws Give Little Complaint

Winnipeg.—Lieut.-Colonel John Thompson, chairman of the Pensions Law Commission, and Major Stanley Carroline, commissioner, arrived in Winnipeg for a routine inspection of the district pensions office here. The commissioners have inspected the district pensions offices from Victoria, B.C., to Winnipeg, and report that there was very little complaint as to the manner in which the pensions law was administered in the West. In practically all instances they found that a proper explanation of the regulations eliminated the reasons brought forward for the complaints.

Riga More Normal

Helsingfors.—Conditions are becoming more normal in Riga following the German Russian attempt to capture the city, it is stated in advices received here.

Most of the newspapers are again appearing. Supplies are short, however, and prices of commodities are soaring.

Valuable Salmon Stock

Prince Rupert, B.C.—The Skeena River salmon pack has been completed and the season's value is set at $4,027,900. The sockeye pack was a good deal larger than usual, the total going 180,000 cases, which at $15 a case is valued at $2,700,000.

British Land Reinforcements

Constantinople.—Two British transports have landed reinforcements on the Turkish Asiatic coast for the British contingent operating against the rebels.

Paris.—The supreme council approved the text of a notification to be addressed to the neutral powers, which will be asked to join the League of Nations, setting forth the conditions under which they may adhere to the covenant of the league.

The council also approved the draft note to be sent to Germany demanding the surrender to the allied and associated powers of German ships which were turned over during the war to companies in the Netherlands, and which are at present in German ports. The note declares that the sales are void because of their irregularity. Another draft note to Germany, regarding German representations on the subject of the territory of Memel, on the eastern Baltic frontier of Germany, declares that the allies decline to discuss the destiny of Memel with Germany which renounced its rights over this territory by the treaty of Versailles. The solution of this question, it is stated, concerns only the allied and associated powers.

No Chance For Profiteers

British Courts Take Prompt Action to Regulate Prices

London.—Following are typical examples of the decisions of the profiteering committees this week:
At Manchester the committee held that 20 per cent. too much profit was charged to Prof. Toot, of Manchester University, for suits for his sons. Twenty-five per cent. too much profit was charged also on a pair of trousers. Another firm of military tailors was ordered to refund 16 pence to a purchaser of a medal bar bought for two shillings. Many complaints have been postponed for further enquiries.

One alleged flaw in the Profiteering Act is that the onus of complaint is laid upon the purchaser, which obviously involves considerable trouble in the recovery of overcharges in individual payments. A church bazaar notice at Wimbledon significantly states that no article will be sold above shop prices.

May Abandon U.S. Tour

London.—It is quite possible that the visit of the Prince of Wales to the United States may be abandoned, owing to President Wilson's confinement to his bed by the flu. The King has been in communication with the Prince concerning this possibility, and the question will probably be decided soon. If the Prince does not go to the United States, it is understood that he will make a somewhat longer period in Canada.

Christopher, Ill.—"For four years I suffered from irregularities, weakness, and was in a run down condition. Two of our best doctors failed to do me any good. I heard, so much about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others, I tried it, and was cured."

—Mrs. L. K. MILLER, Christopher, Ill.

Nervousness is often a symptom of weakness or some functional derangement, which may be overcome by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as thousands of women have found by experience.

"Complications exist," writes Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., "for suggestions to regulate your system. The result of its long experience is at your service."

To Change Weather On Canada's East Coast

Those of our readers who are past the first flush of their youth, say the Financial Post, may remember when the plan originated to dig the parallel of Belle Isle between Newfoundland and Labrador. It was certainly a good many years ago, although the project has been mooted several times since, and the transactions of the geographical societies of the world contain frequent reference to it. It is nearly twenty years since the proposal was last put forward; and most of us had long since abandoned the hope of eating oranges grown in Nova Scotia, which was one of the blessings to flow from this project: to shift the Arctic current, bring the Gulf Stream into line where it would be useful to us, and generally revolutionize the climate of North America. What might happen thereby to those lands now warmed by the gentle radiance of that stream is another matter. Let them go on keeping the home fires burning; us for the cheap heat brought by the Gulf Stream all the way from the shores of Mexico.

The project is revived once more, and this time it has behind it men of undoubted standing both in Great Britain and Canada, as well as the capitalists who would put up the millions necessary to build the dam. English capital is still looking for an outlet; the straits of Belle Isle project, it is calculated, would absorb about ten millions of it.

Dr. Pelletier, the Agent General for the Province of Quebec in London, and Mr. L. A. Cannon, M.L.A. of Quebec, have been in Ottawa discussing the project with officials of the Government; and a concrete proposal will be laid before the cabinet at an early date. The above named gentlemen assert that they are making the move at the instance of English capitalists, who are prepared to go on with the project as soon as the consent of the governments immediately concerned is secured. The project on the map which Messrs. Pelletier and Cannon exhibit, contains the following:

"The water which flows out of the Gulf stream now is of about the same or lighter gravity than the Arctic current, so that the Arctic current courses along Labrador and Newfoundland, whereas the water of the Gulf stream, being so much more saline and heavier, would press the Arctic water away from those shores."

The scheme has been placed before Lord Morris and Sir Edgar Bovring, High Commissioner for Newfoundland in Great Britain, who thoroughly appreciates its possibilities. They are enormous, climatically, and if the expectations of its advocates are fulfilled, would revolutionize a large part of the world's trade routes. The scheme proposed to the Dominion Government includes the building of a railroad along the north shore of the St. Lawrence river to Labrador, running out over the dam across the strait, connecting Newfoundland with the mainland of Canada and the United States and shortening by half the present ocean voyage to Europe. It would open for navigation many ports on the Atlantic seaboard, and would make the St. Lawrence navigable throughout the year as far up as Quebec and possibly Montreal.

At present the Gulf stream affects the Nova Scotia coast only to a small extent, approaching the southern coast at about the 43rd parallel; but the cold Arctic current, coming down from the north through Baffin's Bay and Davis Strait, pours through the straits of Belle Isle into the Gulf of St. Lawrence, creates fogs, mists; carries the huge bergs into the path of the Atlantic liners, causing wrecks such as that of the Titanic; sweeps along the coast of the Maritime Provinces and makes the climate there and in the New England States almost unendurable for a great part of the year and is finally shunted off by Cape Cod. The promoters of this dam project claim that it would similarly shunt off the current from entering the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and throw it out into the Atlantic where it would affect only the whales and other denizens of the deep, who do not seem to mind it anyhow. We should then have the benefit of the Gulf stream without any entangling alliance with the Arctic current, and our climate would be completely changed. Canadian and New England seaboard cities would have the advantage of ice-free ports; ice and snow would be seen only in the movies; and semi-tropical products could be grown in Canada and New England.

But would all this ensue from the building of this nine miles dam? Dr. Dawson, Chief Hydrographer of Canada, seems to doubt it. He published a report more than ten years ago on the currents in Belle Isle Strait, in which he established the fact that the Arctic current does not sweep down through the Straits and into the Gulf of St. Lawrence, but strikes off towards the northwest; and that tides in the straits are regular, flowing east and west at the rate of two or three knots per hour every day. There is no great constant volume of water coming into the Gulf from the north. He claims, moreover, that the fish we do not get any benefit from the Gulf stream, while Europe does, is that our prevailing winds are outward off the land, while those of Europe are inward. The idea, therefore, that the damming of the straits would revolutionize the climate and open the St. Lawrence for constant navigation will have to be further supported before it can be accepted.

The railroad project and the making of a great transatlantic port on the northern part of Newfoundland is another matter, and much more feasible; and the building of this dam or causeway across the strait might be justified by that alone.

At all events, these men of standing in Canada and England are apparently willing to take a chance and they are not asking for a dollar of Government aid in the building of their dam. All they want is the necessary permission to go ahead with it. If they could make the St. Lawrence open all the year around, they would not require any government subsidy or bonus; the business men of Canada would be willing to contribute so as to make them rich beyond the dreams of avarice and to erect on the heights at Quebec a statue in their honor symbolical of Enterprise Warming the Word. — T. ## $300 For an Acre of Alfalfa

Substantial Profits Assured on Irrigated Farms in Western Canada

Substantial profits from alfalfa growing are practically assured on irrigated farms in Western Canada, but a new record has been made by J. E. Strong, of Brooks, Alberta, who has a twelve acre field in seed which, it is fully expected, will be worth from $3,500 to $4,800.

Mr. Strong came to Alberta two years ago from Idaho and sowed this twelve acres of alfalfa, seeded with barley, about the end of June, 1917. Last year he cut over three and a quarter tons of hay per acre off it, but decided this summer to leave his crop for seed, and it is now estimated that this field will grade at least ten bushels of seed to the acre, which will make this crop worth $300 per acre.

So confident, however, is Mr. Strong of the returns to be obtained from alfalfa growing that he has decided not to sell the proceeds of this year's threshing, but to put it all back again into the land, seeding about two hundred acres.

Treasure Found In France

Gold Coins of Mintage of Francis I. Uncovered By American Doughboys

The story of the finding of a pot of gold coins of the mintage of Francis I, who ruled France in the early part of the sixteenth century, coins that had been buried for 400 years, probably, until they were uncovered by American doughboys digging a gun emplacement near the little village of La Membrolle, in France, is told by Edward Hagaman Hall, secretary of the Scenic and Historic Preservation Society, says the New York Sun.

One of the rare and beautiful coins is in Mr. Hall's possession. It was given to him by John C. Sanders, a clerk to the Metropolitan Trust Company, who was a corporal in Battery D of the 70th Field Artillery.

On a day toward the end of August, 1918, Corp. Sanders and a squad of the battery were toiling just outside of La Membrolle, which is about three kilometres from Angers. It was as hot as blazes, the mercury standing at 95 in the shade, "and there wasn't any shade," as Sanders says. The tough clay soil was a pretty mean proposition, and the non-coms had to keep urging the men to finish the three-foot trench in which heavy timbers were to be set up for an eight-inch British howitzer.

"We were working in what seemed to be a hayfield," said Sanders. "Behind us, about 500 yards distant, was the pretty hamlet of La Membrolle, with its church steeple sticking up above the roofs of the picturesque stone houses. There is only one street in La Membrolle, and that is crooked, with about a dozen one and two storied houses on both sides. You know the Angers district is famous for its slate quarry, so the roofs were covered with slate and the walls seemed to be of the same kind of stone."

"Well, as I was saying, we were out in that hot hay field digging for an emplacement for an eight-inch British howitzer. The way we made a gun foundation was this: We dug three trenches in the shape of a triangle, about a rod long on each side and three and a half feet deep. In those trenches we laid heavy timbers about 14 inches square up to the level of the ground. The timbers were bolted together, and on top of them were bolted heavy plates of iron for the wheels and trail of the cannon to rest on."

"I had charge of the detail digging that day and it was so hot that it was hard to get the boys to work in the heavy clay soil. Pretty soon, right at one of the corners of the trench, a rich, sticky, brown soil, or vase, which was large at the bottom and narrow at the top and about six or eight inches," (indicating about six or eight inches), "and out of it fell a lot of round black things that we thought were bits of the heavy metal. I had about thirty of them in my hand at one time. When we rubbed them we found they were gold pieces, and then you should have seen the boys dig. They couldn't dig fast enough. We dug the whole place over, not only the three trenches, but the ground between, but didn't find any more. We divided up the coins, and I kept this one."

"The coin is of gold, about as thick as sheet iron or heavy with irregular edge, and measures 28 millimetres, or about 1-1/16 of an inch in diameter. On the obverse side are the arms of France and Dauphin quartered, with the three fleurs de lys in the first and fourth and the dolphin in the second and third quarters."

General Smuts on The Peace Treaty

Gen. Smuts was a peace commissioner in Paris and had a hand in making the treaty. When it was done he was far from satisfied with it and made feeling complaints about details of it that displeased him. But he voted for it because he believed it was necessary for the world.

He is a very considerable person, is Gen. Smuts; a Dutchman from South Africa, as everyone knows, who fought the British in the Boer war, and afterwards, as a consequence of the wise policy of conciliation that was followed, became a leader in Government when South Africa came into the British family. He sees things large and in an admirable spirit, and he is a bold man, who speaks his mind, and when he speaks is listened to.

His criticisms of the treaty when he signed it were notable, and last month before he started for home in South Africa he wrote a farewell message to the British people, and that is a notable and fit to be widely read. In that letter he said: "A new life, a new spirit is imperatively necessary if Europe is not to fall backward and lag behind other continents in the great march of humanity."

"Her lot is indeed pitiable beyond words. The continent which is the motherland of our civilization lies in ruins, exhausted by the most terrible struggle in history, with its peoples starved, starving, despairing, from sheer nervous exhaustion mechanically struggling forward along the paths of anarchy and war, and seeing only red through the blinding mist of tears and fears—almost a mad content, more fit for bedlam than for the tremendous task of reconstruction that lies before it."

"It is the most awful spectacle in history, and no man with any heart or regard for human destiny can contemplate it without the deepest emotion."

"No, it is not a case for hatred or bitterness, and no man with any heart for extending the helping hand to late friend and foe alike, and for a mission of rescue work such as the world has never seen. Europe is and will, for this generation, be the greatest mission field in which the energies of the great-hearted peoples of this country and America could be spent."

That was how Europe looked to General Smuts, and he had been there for several years and ought to know, and doubtless it was because of what he knew of the state of Europe and of mankind generally that he signed the treaty that fell so far short of being as he wanted it.

Europe needs the treaty; no doubt of that; needs to have every wheel turn that is left and every green thing sprout that can find soil for its roots. She needs peace and reorganization of commerce, agriculture and industry if the people who do not starve to death this coming winter are to survive the year to follow. The treaty will bring peace and hope for its continuance. Those who would kill it take, so far as Europe is concerned, a responsibility only second to that assumed by men who bring on a vantage war.

And if Mr. Lodge says "America first," while the galleries applaud, are we so with orders on our affairs that we can afford to dally with the peace of the world that includes ourselves? With food sky high, rents soaring, clothes very dear and shoes a subject of investigation by Congress — with strikes and disorders more to come — with wages racing upward to meet the rising cost of living and organized labor threatening to settle in its own interest matters like railroad control that Congress dodges — are these times at home for the senate to spend its days in futurities and querulous forebodings about things that will never happen?

To ratify the treaty is to take chances, of course, but to reject it is to take vastly bigger and riskier ones. The perils of these times are great enough at best. It is really necessary to increase and prolong them in order that certain vindictive emotion in Washington may demonstrate that Mr. Wilson went to Paris for nothing, and should have stayed at home and sent Mr. Lodge? If Mr. Root, or Mr. Taft had been members of the peace commission it might have helped the treaty in the Senate, but that's past praying for now. Ratify it, senators! — From Life.

Drink Water

Beverages Are Always Much More Expensive Than Plain Water

Why do we drink? Because our bodies are walking aquariums, and we have to keep the protoplasm of our cells swimming in water or it will not live. As long as we drink only water, there is little danger of our taking too much—except by drowning ourselves; but when we begin to mix things with it, trouble begins. Certainly on general principles it would appear that their simplest, cheapest, and most rational thing would be to take our necessary daily three pints of water "straight," without mixture of any sort—clear, fresh and sparkling from the spring; but for some strange reason man has never been satisfied to do this, but must add something to the water before he will call it a drink. And he doesn't appear to have been particularly lucky in his additions.

A large part of our drinking water has always been taken in the form of mixtures with other substances. These beverages are always much more expensive than the plain water, often quite troublesome to secure and prepare, have little or no food value, are of doubtful effect in moderation and usually injurious in excess. Why they should ever have come into such universal use in all races and in all ages of the world is one of the standing puzzles of human nature. — Woods Hutchinson.

Graves of Canadians Are Well Kept

Every Care Being Exercised in Making Removals

Regina.—Over ten thousand isolated graves of Canadian soldiers scattered here and there over in France have already been moved and centralized in larger cemeteries where their friends will easily be able to locate them, according to a letter received from France by Donald W. Grant, of the Saskatchewan Department of Municipal Affairs.

The main graveyard is located at La Chaudiere, a little hamlet near Vimy village, and it is stated by Mr. Grant's correspondent that the graves are being well kept up by the Canadian war graves department, and that every care and reference is being exercised in making these removals.

For the information of those who are searching for informations as to the whereabouts of loved ones who gave their lives to their country it is announced that information may be secured from Lieut. L. B. Davies, Canadian War Graves Detachment, c/o D.A.D.G. R. and E. No. 1 area, A.F.O.S. 77, Eucine, France.

Canada's Aboriginal Population

According to the latest report of the Superintendent of Indian Affairs, there are 105,998 Indians in Canada and 3,286 Eskimos, making an aboriginal population of 109,284. Of all the provinces, Ontario has the largest Indian population, namely 26,411, British Columbia being second with 25,694. In Prince Edward Island there are only 292 Indians.

Sixty Acres Broken in Nine Days

Here and Rapidly With Which the Prairie of Western Canada Can Be Broken Up

An example of the ease and rapidity with which the virgin prairie of Western Canada can be broken up and made ready for crop is provided by Mr. Howard Blachly, who is farming 480 acres of fertile land in Southern Alberta, between Duchess and Patricia.

Mr. Blachly came to Alberta from Idaho some five or six weeks ago, when he inspected the land and purchased it. He returned to Ohio and, after disposing of his property in that state, returned to Alberta. He purchased a Titan 10-20 h.p. tractor and with one man to help him, started breaking on September 2nd. Nine days later Mr. Blachly had plowed 60 acres and had 45 acres of this double disc and harrowed.

Mr. Blachly is naturally very proud of this performance and states he has never seen land which works up in better shape.

It Works! Try It

Tells how to loosen a sore, tender corn so it lifts out without pain.

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezone, the expert discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

Ask at any pharmacy for a quarter ounce of freezone, which will cost very little, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance, which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.
